instead of eating three large meals, eat five or six small meals a day, each about two and a half hours apart.